Women's Spring Retreat 2018

Our Speaker: Amy Sheehan

Storytelling transcends time and cultural barriers and preserves stories into a tapestry to be treasured, a spoken legacy. From thousands of stage performances, both theatrically and musically, over 25 years serving in the local church as a pastor's wife, musician, and Bible teacher, and now serving as a missionary wife, God has invested much into Amy. She weaves stories of her own life experiences with God, stories others have shared with her through the years, and stories from the Bible about God to help you see how very real He is and how personal He wants to be to you.

Amy is a missionary pastor's wife, a mother of three, a collector of stories, a budding writer, and a professional musician. Amy's career has included professionally performing as a vocalist and actress in the U.S., as well as Canada, Mexico, Europe, Africa, and South America. She also previously owned a business for over 25 years in which she privately trained countless singers, pianists, and speakers.

Five years ago, Amy followed the Lord's direction in developing a new ministry through which she writes and speaks, teaches the Bible, and trains others. She encourages them to recognize and capture the stories of God at work around them, in them, and through them in order to give God the glory for His faithfulness in their lives. She has an eight-week video study entitled Timeline, available with student and leader books. In addition, she is currently working on a set of discipleship materials, Legacy Stories, which currently includes Stories of Hope, Stories of Courage, and Stories of Honesty, each of which is eight weeks. Amy also serves as the Director of Development for World Hope Ministries International, for which her husband, Stuart, is the president. As God provides opportunity, she travels with Stuart and enjoys teaching and encouraging women around the world, engaging them in God's work where they live.
